PROFILE

I write, direct, shoot and edit my work with precision and attention to detail. Skilled in managing film sets and working in teams, I combine artistic vision with technical expertise.
I have worked as a broadcast mixer video throughout my career, with a passion for photography and filming and a constant commitment to visual quality.
My creative journey is influenced by British culture and underpinned by a strong command of English. I strive for authenticity and a compelling narrative at the heart of every project.
